KEY ITALIAN BASE OF ARGIROCASTRO REPORTED ABANDONED

SECOND SHAKEUP IN FASCIST COMMAND IS ANNOUNCED AT ROME

Harassed by Greeks, Mussolini Makes Another Important Change in Military Posts, Replacing Brigadier General Cesare Maria De Vecchi Count Di Val Cismon, Commander of the Aegean Forces and Governor of the Strategic Dodecanese Islands, With General Ettore Bastico, Commander of the Army of Po

ATHENS LEARNS 3,000 PRISONERS AND OVER 100 HOWITZERS TAKEN IN DRIVE TO THE SEA

Italian shakeup: Brigadier General Cesare Maria de Vecchi Count di Val Cismon, commander of the Aegean forces and governor of the strategic Dodecanese Islands, replaced by General Ettore Bastico in the second Italian high command shakeup in two days.
Greek-Italian conflict: Dispatches from the Greek front report key Italian base of Argirocastro abandoned by Fascist troops, with city in flames.
The air warfare: Nazi air raiders strike at Bristol during the night, killing an undetermined number of persons; R. A. F. says two Axis bombers shot down in today's engagements over England.

Rome, Dec. 7.—(P)—Count Cesare de Vecchi di Val Cismon, one of the original big four of Italian Fascism with Benito Mussolini, resigned his command in the Dodecanese Islands today in the second sensational retirement from Italy's war scene.

General Ettore Bastico, 64-year-old commander of the motorized army of the Po, and veteran of the Fascist Blackshirts, was chosen by Mussolini to replace the 56-year-old count, who had been civil and military governor of the Aegean Islands since November, 1938.

Nothing was published in Rome on the resignation beyond this communiqué:
"By royal decree which is to be signed, Brigadier General Cesare Maria de Vecchi Count di Val Cismon is giving up at his request the duty of commander of the forces of the Aegean and that of governor. By royal decree, likewise to be signed, Ettore Bastico, general of the army, for war merits, has been named governor of the Dodecanese and commander of those armed forces."

WELDERS AWAIT BRITISH CRUISER

Montevideo, Uruguay, Dec. 7.—(P)—Welders were called to the docks by the British consulate today to make hurried repairs to the 20,112-ton armed merchant cruiser Carnarvon Castle, damaged yesterday in a south Atlantic sea battle with a German raider.

Steel plates were assembled among repair materials.
With radio restrictions still hiding details of the battle about 700 miles off the Uruguayan coast, the Carnarvon Castle headed slowly into this port. She was expected about 2:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

British legation officials would say only they had directed a hospital ship to stand by as a precautionary step.
It was believed that the Carnarvon Castle had German prisoners aboard. On November 30, she stopped the German coastal ship Itape and the British said, were Germans. If so, she would be obliged to release them here under maritime law.

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—The position of the treasury Rec. 5: Receipts $29,932,845.70; expenditures $44,528,704.03; net balance $1,748,397,329.28. Gross debt $44,280,938,632.55; increase over previous day $2,394,954.37.

Army Training Ordered Suspended for Most of the Christmas-New Year Holiday Period

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—December 21 to December 26, and again from noon December 31 to January 2.
Army Department today ordered army training suspended for most of the Christmas-New Year holiday period, and liberalized regulations so that large numbers of men might enjoy furloughs.
Training for men in active service prior to November 1 is to be suspended from noon December 21 to January 2.
For those who have entered service since November 1, training will be suspended from noon December 21 to January 2.
For those who have entered service since November 1, training will be suspended from noon December 21 to January 2.

President Pledges Greece Assistance

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—In an exchange of messages with King George II, President Roosevelt today pledged American aid to Greece.
Answering a message from the Greek King thanking the United States for aid already received, President Roosevelt said in a message released through the State Department, "as your majesty knows, it is the settled policy of the United States government to extend aid to those governments and peoples who defend themselves against aggression."
"I assure your majesty," Roosevelt added, "that steps are being taken to extend such aid to Greece which is defending itself so valiantly."

MORGENTHAU TO RECEIVE BRITISH BALANCE SHEET

Sir Frederick Phillips, Undersecretary From London, at Work on Detailed Accounting of Country's Assets for Waging War

NO COMMITMENTS

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—A series of blunt questions put to Secretary Morgenthau set Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British treasury, to work at the British embassy today on a detailed accounting of his country's assets for waging war with Germany.

On the answers, which Phillips is expected to deliver to the United States treasury chief Monday, may depend the form and timing of any proposal for the United States to buy back Britain's fight with American dollars.

While no officials here are on record with commitments for extension of loans or other financial aid to the British, it was generally accepted in both administrative and congressional circles that consideration of such assistance was the primary purpose of Phillips' visit.

His opening conference with Morgenthau yesterday was devoted to facts and devoid of policy considerations, he reported afterward. The informed officials said, the treasury secretary asked him for the most specific types of information about what the British still have in the way of assets after buying several hundred million dollars worth of airplanes, tanks and other war supplies.

New York, Dec. 7.—(P)—An English machine tool industrialist, completing a purchasing mission in this country, declared today that private British business men "are paying cash and have plenty of it."

BROKER MISSING WITH $2,500,000

Philadelphia, Dec. 7.—(P)—The federal government instigated a nation-wide search today for Robert J. Boltz, 53-year-old investment counselor to which, a state official said, clients had entrusted $2,500,000.
Boltz was indicted on 21 counts yesterday by a federal grand jury which for three days had heard witnesses, many prominent in the city's social and business life. He was charged specifically with the use of the mails to defraud and for failure to register with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
Judge George A. Welsh immediately issued a bench warrant, and agreed to the government's request to set $100,000 as bail when it Boltz is taken into custody. The postoffice inspection service, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and SEC agents took up the search.
Boltz disappeared October 22, after the Pennsylvania Securities Commission opened an investigation. Commissioner J. Myron said at that time $2,500,000 entrusted to him by clients could not be found.
An auditor appointed by the court after Boltz was adjudged bankrupt during the state inquiry reported most of his tangible assets were represented in the 260-acre estate in a fashionable section of Bucks county where he lived as a gentleman farmer with his wife and 22-year old daughter.

TO SPEED AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY

Prospective Use of Automobile Factories in Manufacture of Military Planes Boosts to 40,000 a Year the Production Rate Which Defense Officials Expect to Attain Some Time in 1942; To Construct New Assembly Units

ADDITIONS PLANNED AT WILLIAMSPORT PLANT

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—Prospective use of automobile factories in the manufacture of military aircraft today boosted to 40,000 planes a year the production rate which defense officials expect to attain sometime in 1942.

Four huge plants to assemble into finished airplane parts made in motor car factories are to be constructed west of the Mississippi river, under plans of the War Department and defense commission. Sites for two with a combined capacity of 2,400 medium two-motor bombers a year announced yesterday. One will be built at Kansas City and operated by North American Aviation Corp. and the other at Omaha, Neb., operated by Martin Co.

The other two plants planned, it was reported, will turn out four-motor bombers at the rate of 1,200 a year. The locations of these (Turn to Page Nine)

OHIO MOTHER KILLS THREE TOTS AND SELF

Dayton, O., Dec. 7.—(P)—Plebe county authorities today dismissed as triple homicide and suicide the deaths of three small children and their 28-year old mother.
The bodies, each shot through the heart, were found in separate beds in their farm home west of here. Beside the mother, Mrs. Dorothy Alice Crouse, lay a 22-caliber target pistol and at the head of her bed was pinned a penciled note, "I cannot stay here longer."
Everett Crouse, husband and father of the victims, was at work in Middletown when notified of the tragedy. He said his wife had been in ill health and underwent a serious operation two months ago.

BELIEVED OVERDUE PLANE

Rantoul, Ill., Dec. 7.—(P)—Lieutenant W. R. Young, of Chanute Field, said today that the number of an airplane which crashed with the loss of two lives near Campbellburg, Ky., was the same as that of an army plane overdue today at the army field here.

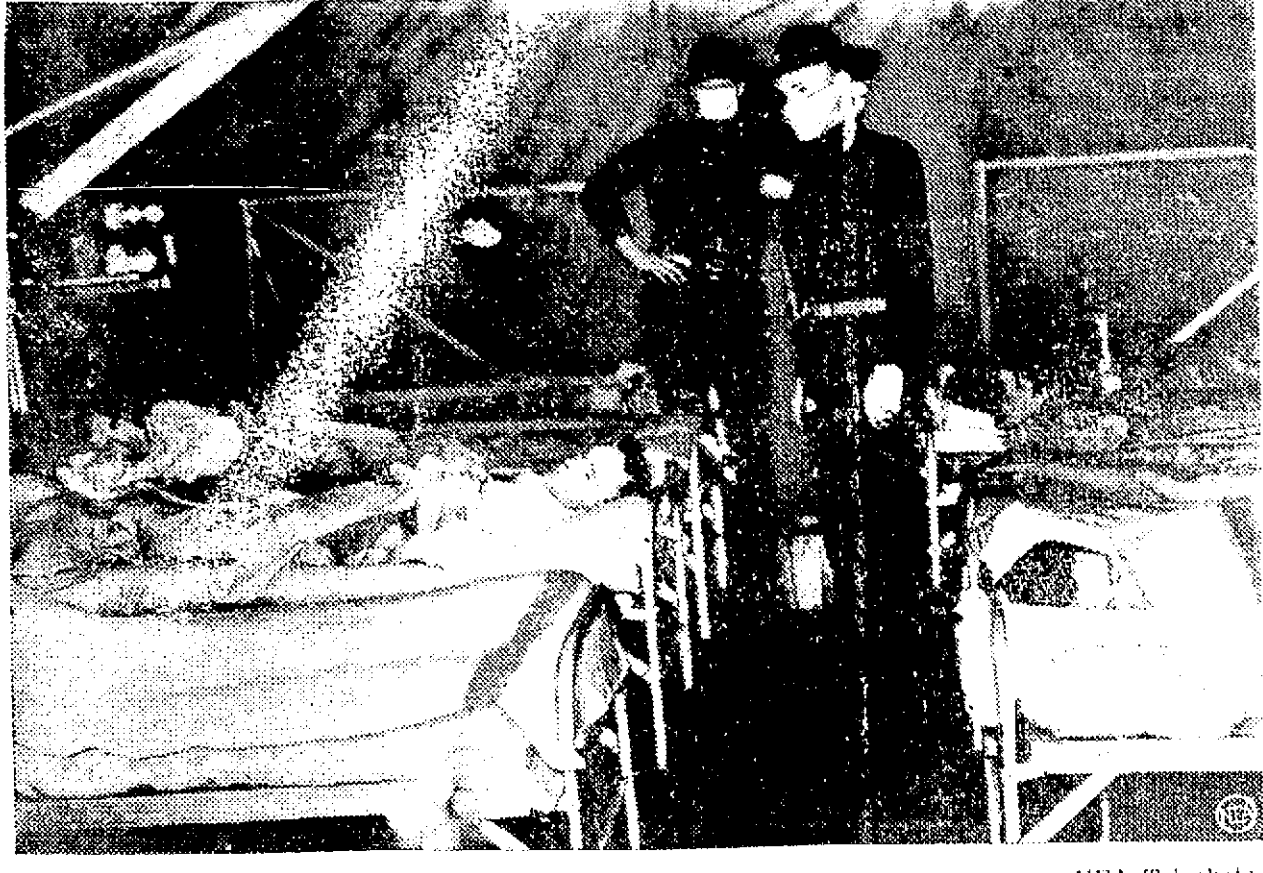

Polgar Entertainment to Help Make Holiday Happier for Less Fortunate

One of Greatest Attractions on Stage Being Brought to Warren as Benefit for Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus Fund

UNCANNY PROGRAM

Warren residents who purchase tickets for Dr. Franz J. Polgar's performance here next Wednesday night, December 12, in the high school auditorium are not only assuring themselves a splendid, if unusual, evening's entertainment, but will be helping to make the holidays happier for a large number of persons who otherwise might spend a rather dreary Christmas.
Through the bringing of the internationally famous personage to Warren, the Alias Santa Claus Fund of the Times-Mirror hopes to be able to better provide for those whom it has on its list.
So by buying a Polgar ticket for 75 cents, you'll be aiding a worthy cause, assuring the less fortunate a better Christmas and an evening they'll never forget.
For Dr. Polgar is unquestionably the greatest attraction on the American stage today. His feats have won him a reputation throughout America and Europe. His powers as a hypnotist, men (Turn to Page Nine)

Coast Flu Outbreak Hits Uncle Sam's Soldiers

Tents became isolation wards for soldiers stricken with influenza at Camp Murray, Wash., because of lack of hospital facilities. Some 1500 men there and at the neighboring Ft. Lewis army post were ill. Note each soldier lies with his head opposite the feet of his neighbor, as provided by army health regulations.

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—(P)—The sweep of California's epidemic of mild influenza seemed to be leveling off today, but apparently the disease was affecting increasingly large numbers of persons in Washington state and Oregon. A total of 666 new cases were reported yesterday in Los Angeles city and county, but health authorities there said the infection appeared to have reached its peak. San Francisco yesterday reported 96 new cases, bringing the total to 507, but the city health department expressed no alarm.

ARREST EXPOSES QUEER TALE OF MASQUERADING

Veteran of East Tennessee Town's Police Force Charged With Escaping From Texas Prison Camp and Posing as Dead Brother

WIFE MUCH SURPRISED

Johnson City, Tenn., Dec. 7.—(P)—White-haired Thomas H. Sapp, veteran of this East Tennessee town's police force, sat in a jail cell today, charged with escaping from a Texas prison camp and masquerading as his dead brother for the past 10 years.
Police Chief Tom Carriger, describing Sapp as "a straight shooter" ever since he's been on the force, said the 55-year-old officer walked away from the prison camp in 1930 and soon afterwards became a sheriff's deputy here. He subsequently joined the Johnson City police force.

Carriger said Sapp was sentenced to 99 years imprisonment as Emory E. Sapp in 1919 for complicity in the slaying of his first wife five years before.
Sapp was arrested yesterday on federal indictments charging him with making false claims to the veterans administration to collect a pension in the name of his dead brother, and with using the mails to defraud.

Important Mail Being Delivered to Chief Executive By Planes

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Aboard the U. S. S. Mayrant at Sea, Dec. 7.—(P)—(By Radio) Bearing pouches of White House mail, two navy seaplanes kept a rendezvous with President Roosevelt yesterday morning near a Caribbean island.

(This dispatch, received in New York at 1:55 a. m., eastern standard time today, was the first word from the presidential party touring naval bases in the Caribbean Sea since the president departed from Kingston, Jamaica, Thursday night aboard the cruiser Tuscaloosa.)

While the Tuscaloosa, the destroyer Trippe and this destroyer lay hove to at 10 a. m., EST, the mail was transferred in a white boat.

The rudder of one plane was damaged slightly during the operation, performed in a choppy sea.
The rudder was repaired in lee of shore, however, and the Tuscaloosa and her escorts stood by until both planes took off on their return flight to San Juan, P. R.

The contact with the planes was made after an all-night run from Jamaica. Despite the somewhat rough sea, the weather continued sunny and warm.
Secrecy still shrouded the Tuscaloosa's next destination.

REBUILT LINER IS REVEALED AS NAZI SEA RAIDER

New York, Dec. 7.—(P)—A British sea captain given up as dead by all but his wife, declares that a German sea raider, sailing southern waters with hundreds of mines, is a huge rebuilt liner whose appearance is changed from day to day like stage scenery.
Capt. Cornelius Arundell, a prisoner aboard the raider for 64 days following the sinking of his vessel, the 2,077-ton Moxby, by the Nazi ship near Bermuda last April described the raider as a "decent size man-of-war, much more than 10,000 tons." It carried provisions, he added, for a 3-year voyage. The captain escaped when a British submarine appeared and another ship to which he was transferred was scuttled.
The marauder, he said, carried elaborate disguises, which changed her appearance daily for equipment including even a radio and a telephone.

While he was a prisoner on the Capt. Arundell said, the ship changed its identity from Greek to Brazilian, then to Dutch.

On June 18, the raider captured the Norwegian Tropic sea, loaded with wheat for England, and after she left New Zealand, the British seaman and 30 Germans as a prize crew were placed aboard the Tropic Sea, and she, started miles from their goal, the ship was intercepted by the British submarine Truant.

The Nazi scuttled the ship and Capt. Arundell and his crew, with the Tropic Sea's master and his wife, were taken by the submarine to Gibraltar. The Norwegians (Turn to Page Nine)

LABOR DISPUTES CRIPPLE VITAL LUMBER REGIONS

More Than Forty Operations in Western Washington Are Closed By Strikes in Industry Deemed Important to National Defense

12,000 ARE INVOLVED

Seattle, Dec. 7.—(P)—More than 40 lumber operations in western Washington were closed today by labor disputes in an industry deemed important in national defense expansion.
Ten plants were closed in Seattle yesterday, while the 19th closure at Tacoma brought complete paralysis to that lumber capital's sawmill operations. Six mills were closed at Everett, one each at two smaller communities, and five logging operations were listed as closed. Nearly 12,000 workers are involved.

The AFL lumber and sawmill workers' union objected to the closure in its demand for a pay increase from a minimum of 62 1/2 cents hourly to 70 cents, and a week's vacation with pay.

The Seattle mills were closed without the employees striking. They refused to pass picket lines set up by union members from Everett and Tacoma, who contended the Seattle mills were getting business that would be going (Turn to Page Nine)

AMERICAN WOMAN NOT IN PRISON CAMP

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—The State Department announced today that it had received a report from Maynard E. Deegan, American charge in Paris, that Mrs. Elizabeth Deegan was being held by German authorities in a small private hotel in Paris.

Mrs. Deegan was well treated and in good health, the charge officers reported. He expressed hope that she would be released shortly.
The State Department had accepted further information from Paris before deciding whether to lodge a protest with the German government against the detention of Mrs. Deegan, an embassy clerk.

Pétain Decree Reorganizes Entire French Agricultural Program on Corporative Basis

Vichy, France, Dec. 7.—(P)—A hospital train bringing home sick and wounded prisoners of war arrived at Toulouse yesterday from German-occupied France. A trainload of 600 other wounded French soldiers being repatriated from internment in Switzerland was expected today at Clermont-Ferrand.
Plans to the schools of France were announced today by Jacques Chérel, secretary general in the ministry of public education, who said "Godless schooling has had its day."
Religious education in French government-supported schools was abolished in 1923.

DAMAGING AIR RAIDS BY R. A. F.

One of Britain's Chief West Coast Ports and Gateway Through Which Many of Her Seaborne War Supplies Have Been Flowing Into the Industrial Midlands, Bears Brunt of German Bombing Assaults During the Night, London Admits

POINTS IN LOWLANDS AND FRANCE SHELLED

London, Dec. 7.—(P)—Manchester University and the College of Technology were among the buildings hit by Nazi raiders in northwest England last night, it was disclosed today.

London, Dec. 7.—(P)—Britain detached a "powerful force" of bombers from their usual nightly raids on Germany last night to range over occupied France and the low countries and blast the air-dromes from which the Germans are attacking England, the air ministry news service reported today.

At Chateaudun, 226 miles southwest of Chartres in the Plain of Orleans, and at Metz, only 27 miles southeast of Paris, successful raids were reported. The Chateaudun air-drome was raided several times and explosions and fires were seen on runways and in hangars, the service said.

Other bombs started fires at Villacoublay, scored direct hits on hangars at Chartres followed by a "spectacular explosion"—and fired gasoline stores near Lille, the air ministry service related.

Many other air-dromes in occupied France were bombed and machine-gunned, it was said.
At Le Touquet, on the coast, one plane came down to 500 feet so his gunner could spray the field with accurate fire, it was reported, and at Vitry-en-Artois a low level attack was carried out.

In the low countries, despite clouds and ice, air-dromes at Brussels, Rotterdam and Eindhoven were among those attacked.

DIES TO IGNORE JACKSON CHARGE

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—Attorney General Jackson said last night that Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) had made "erroneous" and "inaccurate" statements about a Justice Department conference which Dies did not attend.
Dies, who had gone to Chattanooga, Tenn., to make a speech, was apprised by his secretary of Jackson's assertion. Dies told the secretary he had made no such remarks as were described by the attorney general, and said he planned no reply.

Jackson's statement—handed to reporters without amplification—related to a conference Thursday between the attorney general and Rep. Voorhies (D-Calif.), a member of the house committee on un-American activities, of which Dies is chairman. Jackson asserted Dies had issued an "announcement" from Nashville, Tenn., referring to a "formula" for cooperation between the department of justice and the Dies committee.
After the Voorhies-Jackson conference, the attorney general announced the Justice Department would cooperate with the committee in exposing Nazi and Fascist mailed propaganda.

Book Reviews Are Enjoyed By Warren High School Pupils

On Thursday, December 5, students in the English classes of Warren High School were privileged to hear two most interesting and instructive book reviews, given by Mrs. Olive Huff of the Warren Public Library staff.

The books reviewed by Mrs. Huff were "The Family" and "Bambi." "The Family" is a very realistic story of an exiled White-Russian family and its valiant effort to adjust itself to life in China.

In reviewing "Bambi," Mrs. Huff succeeded in showing what keen pleasure can be derived from the reading of a book given entirely to the subject of nature and animal life.

Mrs. Huff made a strong appeal to the students to read wholesome, worthwhile books, books that they may "grow up to."

The students enjoyed very much these two book reviews. They are most grateful to Mrs. Huff for her splendid talk, which will be of great help to them in their English work.

Plucky Woman Saves Husband From Deer Maddened By Wound

One of the most fantastic tales to come out of the deer woods during the current season is revealed in an Associated Press dispatch from Franklin today.

The dispatch states that Waldter Baugher, of that place, has his cool-headed wife to thank for saving him from going by a 240-pound 12-point buck in the Sugar Run district, near Kinzua.

After shooting yesterday, Mrs. Baugher had only two shells left when she spotted the buck. She fired once, hitting him in the hip and bowling him over.

Her husband laid down his gun and was about to cut into the animal's hide when it revived, kicked him and tried to gore him. Mrs. Baugher then fired her last shell. The deer again went down, but regained its feet and chased Baugher around several trees, finally punning him to the ground.

In a desperate attempt to save her husband, the plucky woman crashed the butt of her rifle on

PLANT EMPLOYEE LOSES HAND IN MISHAP FRIDAY

Injured while working at the National Forge and Ordnance plant at Irvine last night, Chester Mason, 44, of Irvine, had his left hand amputated at the Warren General Hospital. His condition is reported as good today.

According to the report given to the hospital, Mr. Mason was wearing gloves while operating a machine at the plant. It was stated that his glove caught in a chain, drawing the hand into the machine. The hand was badly crushed and had to be amputated at the wrist.

Mason was given first aid treatment at the plant and then brought to the hospital.

Banquet This Evening Outstanding Event of Calvary Baptist Jubilee; Capacity Crowd at Friday Service

The outstanding social event of the 50th anniversary celebration at the Calvary Baptist church is scheduled for this evening, the golden jubilee banquet at 6:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., with reservations from 150.

Henry F. Blick, toastmaster, will introduce the after-dinner program numbers, including special music, brief toasts and reminiscences by former pastors, members and invited guests.

Two Friday services were attended by capacity groups, the women's session at 2:30 and "Community and Conference Night" at 7:30.

Opening the afternoon program, the Dorcas Missionary Society presented group singing; Scripture by the president, Mrs. Hannah Danielson; prayer by Mrs. B. F. Armstrong; Mrs. Martin Hamlin, wife of the pastor, extended a welcome. Lovely corsages were presented to Mrs. Axel Rendahl, Mrs. Martin A. Larson, Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. Flora Gustafson, secretary, read a brief historical sketch and flowers were presented for departed members. Mrs. Hamlin sang "Mother and the Book of God" by Baird, and Mrs. Larson, former president and pastor's wife now residing in Wilmington, Del., spoke informally and this half of the program concluded with a special Dorcas song of which Mrs. Larson is the author.

Introducing the Philathea Class portion of the program, Mrs. Edith Haglund presiding, an historical sketch written by the secretary, Miss Ellen A. Swanson, was read by the assistant secretary, Mrs. Helen Bjers. Mrs. Rendahl, class organizer, spoke briefly and Mrs. Ruth Johnson sang "Keep in Touch With Jesus." Rev. V. E. Hedberg, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church of Jamestown, N. Y., extended greetings from his congregation and voiced the closing prayer.

Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Armstrong presided at attractively decorated tea tables, from which 75 persons were served.

At the evening service there was group singing, Scripture by R. V. Armstrong and prayer by Stanley Rendahl, and Miss Viola Lindmark, contralto from the First Baptist church, sang two selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Velma Swanson for "Narmare hemmet" in Swedish and "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Liddle.

Rev. Hamlin read written greetings from the following churches of the Middle East Conference, of which he is moderator: McNaughton Street Baptist church, Akron, O.; Grace Baptist, Erie; Bethel Baptist, Cleveland, O.; Swedish Baptist, Jamestown; Baptist church, Lanes; Evangelical Baptist of Youngstown, O., and First Baptist, Warren.

A number of greetings were then personally delivered by the following: Mrs. James A. Davidson, First Baptist church; Rev. George Magnuson, Youngstown, O., for Evangelical Baptist church and the Middle East Conference; Rev. John Bengtson, in behalf of Bethlehem Congregational church, the Warren County Ministerial Association and the Middle East Conference of Covenant churches; Ragnar Carlson, Jamestown, president of the Baptist Young People's Union of the Middle East Conference, which was organized in the fall of 1922 at a young people's rally in the local church.

Informal remarks were then offered by Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Turn to Page Five)

The Higgins family, newly re-furnished, with new personnel, will bow in the Columbia Theatre on Saturday and Sunday, in "Meet the Missus," newest of Republic's popular family series. Included in the new members are Roscoe Karns as "Joe Higgins," Ruth Donnelly as "Lil Higgins" and George Ernest as "Sid Higgins." Spencer Charters is "Granpa" in the new set-up, while petite and winsome Lois Ranson, the only hold-over from the old Higgins personnel, remains in her role of Betty Higgins.

The Higgins family series, Republic's answer to the growing demand for human interest, home-life stories, presents a typical American family with the typical American love and tribulations.

"Cherokee Strip"
"Cherokee Strip," the Paramount picture which will be the attraction Saturday and Sunday at the Columbia Theatre, starring Richard Dix, is an historic romance of the settling of the west. The story concerns the feud between two clans of Texas cattle ranchers, the Lovells, headed by Dix, and the Barretts, headed by Victory Jory. After signing a truce the Barretts move to a border town on the Cherokee Strip, where they continue their outlaws, one opening a bank, another a saloon and a third runs a gambling house in the Strip. Dix is appointed United States marshal for the town to restore law and order. He cleans it up after many exciting experiences, ending in a fierce battle between the two clans.

NOT HOW MUCH, BUT HOW LITTLE

We never advise anyone as to how much should be spent on a funeral—but we do advise everyone not to spend any more than they can afford.

The family's position in the community is one thing that helps determine how elaborate the display should be, and that in turn determines the cost.

As far as we are concerned, every funeral gets the same expert attention and is approached with the same spirit of reverence and respect. And in every case our prices are based on honest values.

City Observes Third Thanksgiving

Pottsville, Pa., celebrated a third Thanksgiving on December 5 because of the coming of a new industry. Here Mayor Claude A. Lord lays the cornerstone of the new Hina Steel Products plant, expected to employ 250 men. As a prelude the mayor distributed more than 1,000 live chickens for needy persons. HIGH STUDENTS AT YOUNGVILLE SERVE DINNERS

Youngville, Dec. 6.—The first of the dinners served for practice by the Youngville high school group of domestic science students was held Wednesday of this week with faculty members as guests.

On Thursday a luncheon was served, with Miss Kathryn Wise, reading specialist of Lyons and Carnahan as the honor guest. The teachers were also guests at the luncheon.

On next Monday evening the domestic science group will serve their annual dinner to the members of the board of education of the Youngville school and also the trustees of the Currie industrial building.

Following the dinner the school board will meet in regular session, as the meeting usually held the first Monday evening of the month was this week postponed.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS

The Youngville Committee for Community Christmas are working hard to make this a Christmas to long be remembered. A community Christmas program largely of music will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 18th, around the community Christmas tree now set up on East Main street near the library building. Supervisor Swanson of the high school faculty is co-operating with the committee of this event and will probably lead the community singing that evening. In case the weather is not suitable the program will be held inside, time and place to be announced later.

The annual high school Christmas concert is to be held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, Dec. 19th. This will consist of both instrumental and vocal numbers.

About thirty new instruments have been purchased and are now being used by orchestra and band members. The high school concert will be directed by school music supervisor Byron Swanson, and promises to be a musical treat.

50-MILE SPEED LIMIT LAW IS PROVING WORTH

Colonel Lynn G. Adams, commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police force, today invited attention to the highway traffic accident experience in Pennsylvania during the first ten months of 1940, in which there were 381 less fatalities resulting from motor vehicle accidents than during the first ten months of the year 1937, which was prior to enforcement of the "50 MILE PER HOUR SPEED LIMIT" on the open highways of the state, through the medium of suspension of operating privileges for those convicted of having violated this law.

Comparing the first ten months of 1940 with the same period in the year 1939, Commissioner Adams disclosed that this year there have been 9 less fatalities resulting from motor vehicle accidents in rural areas of the State, and 120 more fatalities on city streets.

The possibility of motor vehicle accidents occurring greatly increased in Pennsylvania during the year 1940 over previous years, because of there being 115,867 more licensed operators, 56,906 more registered motor vehicles and an increase in gasoline consumption of 79,759,296 gallons, as compared with the first ten months of the year 1939.

IS REAR ADMIRAL

Word has been received here that Randall Jacobs, of Danville, Pa., is among 20 captains who have been promoted to the grade of rear admiral in the U. S. Navy. Admiral Jacobs is a cousin of Mrs. W. L. McClure, of the Warren-Jamestown road. He attended the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia last Saturday in company with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McClure, of this city.

ON PRODUCTION GROUP

W. F. Clinger, according to the Penn Grade Bulletin, has been named a member of the Production Advisory Committee of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association. Mr. Clinger's company has been represented on the committee since its organization four years ago, first in the person of one of its engineers and later when he attended the sessions as president of the Association. The committee is made up of petroleum engineers and geologists of Association producer members. R. B. Bossler of Oil City is chairman.

HELP OUR ALIAS SANTA CLAUS FUND

There are two very good reasons why you should plan to attend the Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus benefit entertainment at the high school auditorium next Wednesday, either one of which would justify early purchase of tickets for the performance.

In the first place, Dr. Franz J. Polgar is admittedly the foremost exponent of hypnotism and mental telepathy in the country, if not in the entire world. Unless it would be possible to secure Dr. Polgar for a return engagement, which is very doubtful, you may never again have an opportunity to witness in Warren such an amazing demonstration as will be offered here next week.

The exhibition is being presented as a benefit for the Alias Santa Claus fund of this paper, which means that every penny of the proceeds over expenses, will be used for charitable purposes.

We are somewhat modest about referring to the work of this department. The policy always has been to refrain from giving publicity to the project because of the nature of the activity and the fact that most of the persons assisted are unfortunates who are usually victims of circumstances rather than of personal shortcomings. The work is not confined to the Christmas season, but is carried on throughout the year. Very few days pass that some appeal is not received which is taken care of through this fund. In the past it has fed the hungry, purchased medicine for the sick, found rest for the weary, helped to provide furniture for those burned out of house and home, helped to bury the dead, and, of course, brought cheer and happiness to many during the Yuletide season.

While contributions to the fund are welcomed this year as in the past, and we are happy to say, some have already been received, it is hoped that the amount available for future use will be materially increased through the appearance of Dr. Polgar.

We recommend the demonstration as promising an evening of strange and diversified entertainment that will provide enjoyment for the youngsters as well as the grownups.

The Penn Grade Bulletin calls attention to the fact that only 592 horse-drawn buggies, carriages and sulkeys were manufactured in the United States last year, the source of the information being the census bureau report. This was quite a drop from the total reported in the previous census of manufacturers, 1937, when 900 were turned out. Horse-drawn farm wagons and trucks did somewhat better than the pleasure vehicles, the number turned out being 30,720 and 21,416, respectively, but these totals were decidedly under 1937 production. A far cry from the days before the horseless carriages.

The weather has taken a turn more favorable to the deer!

'Bout time for dad to pick out a present for sonny that he'll enjoy himself.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE
THE REAL CHRISTMAS JOY
C. E. DIBBLE
Pastor of the United Brethren Church

Luke 19, 10—For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

A Chinese Christian described the relative merits of Confucianism, Buddhism, and Christianity as follows: A man had fallen into a deep, dark pit, and lay in its murky bottom groaning and utterly unable to move. Confucius walked by, approached the edge of the pit, and said, "Poor fellow, I am sorry for you, why were you such a fool as to get in there? Let me give you a piece of advice. If you ever get out, don't get in again." "I can't get out," groaned the man. That is Confucianism.

A Buddhist priest next came by, and said, "Poor fellow, I am very much pained to see you there. I think if I could scramble up two-thirds of the way, or even half, I could reach you and lift you up the rest." But the man in the pit was entirely helpless and unable to rise. That is Buddhism.

Next the Saviour came by, and, hearing his cries, went to the very brink of the pit, stretched down and laid hold of the poor man, brought him up and said, "Go, and sin no more." That is Christianity.

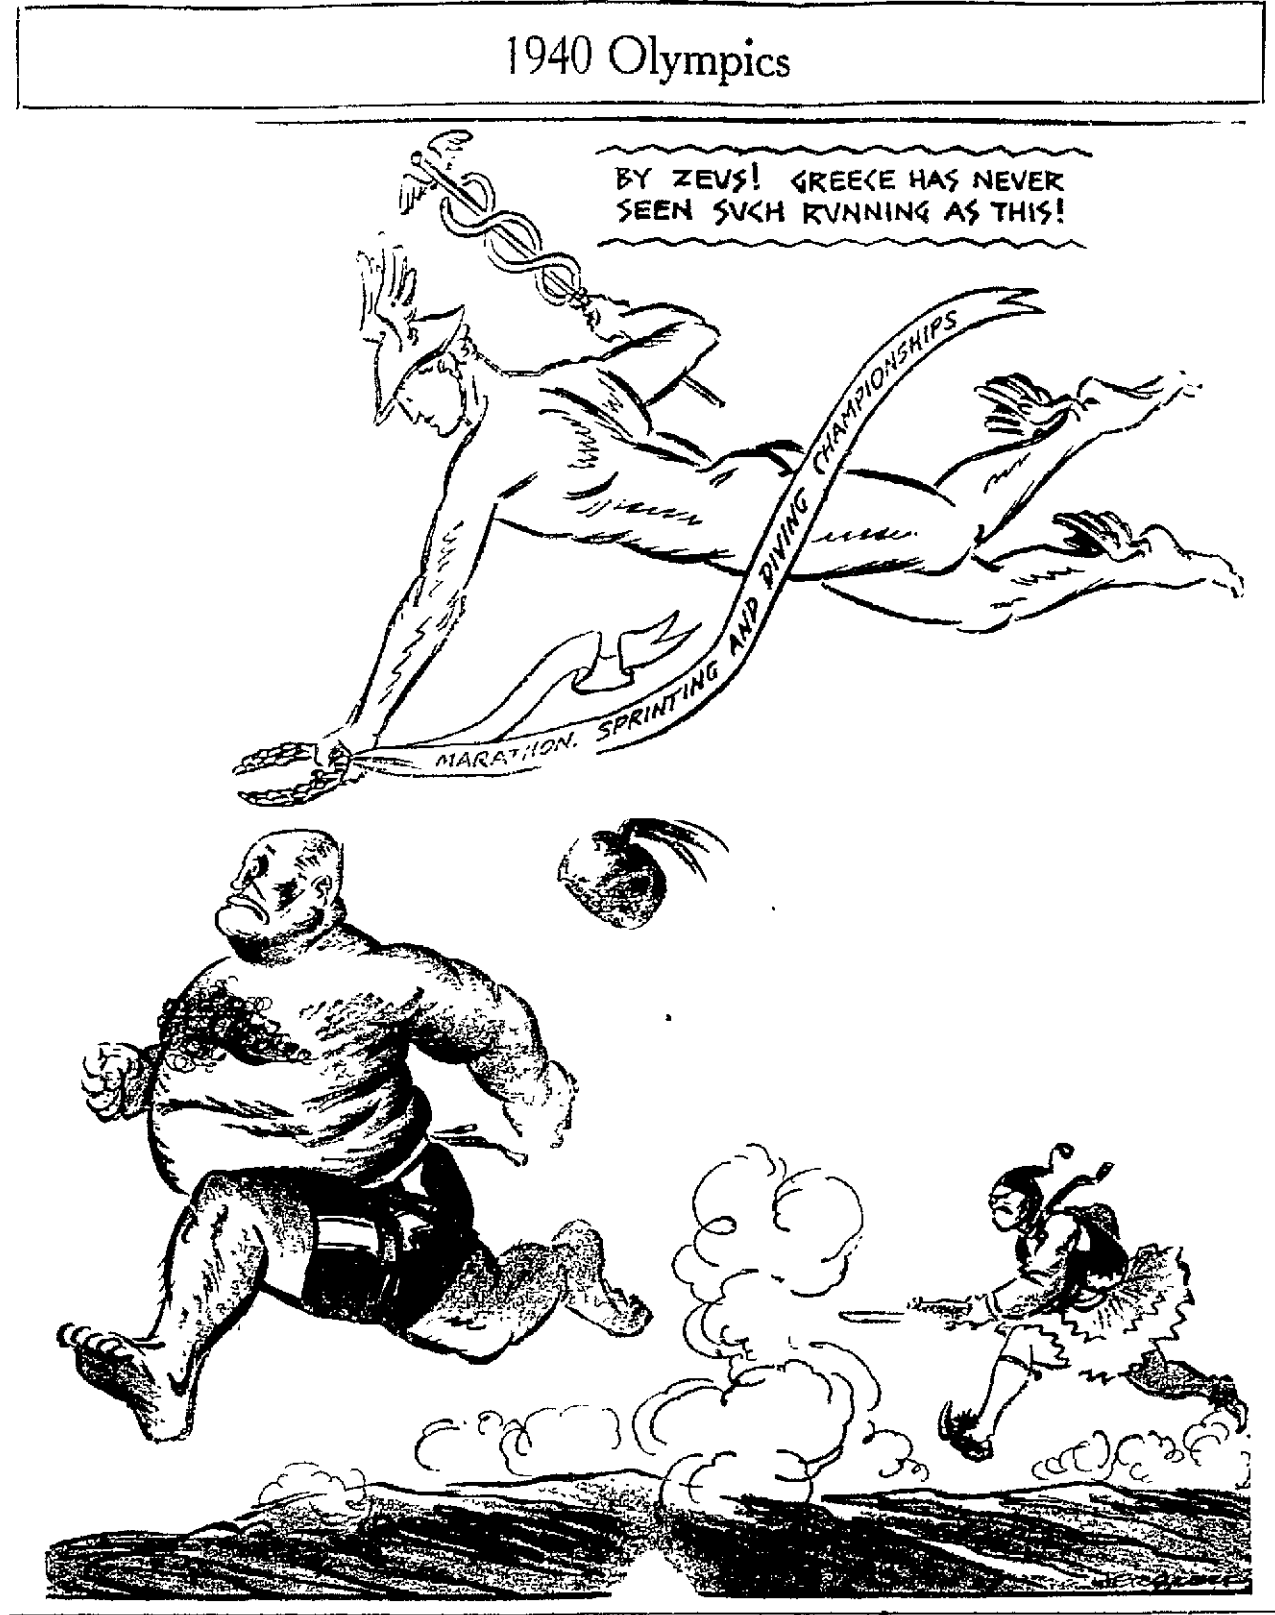

As we approach the Christmas season and plan for the festivities and fellowship of our loved ones and friends the exchange of gifts, and the Christmas programs in our churches may we not forget the words of the text which give us the reason for the coming into the world of our Saviour, and may we remember in our prayers that great multitude of people who as yet have failed to find the real Christmas joy by turning away from their sin and putting their faith in the one who said, "Peace I leave with you my peace I give unto you."

PRAYER: Our Father who art in heaven may the Christmas joy abide in the hearts of all thy children in Jesus name Amen.

WAGE-HOUR LAW CHIEFS WORRY AS TIME MAKES PAY PENALTIES STIFFER

Washington, Dec. 7.—Enforcement of the wage-hour law is running into one of the oddest problems that ever vexed a government agency. The penalty ordinarily used in enforcing the law is getting too stiff to use.

This penalty is the requirement that an employer who has been paying sub-standard wages pay up all back wages due his workers. So far it has been the chief club in the hands of the wage-hour division's inspectors.

But now the law has been in effect for over two years. Suppose an inspector discovers a small business man who has been below the minimum ever since the law went into effect. He can require this man to live up to the law from now on—but if he made him pay up the accumulated wages his workers should have been getting for two years he might simply put him out of business by handing him a bill he couldn't pay.

The division is already waiving restitution in some cases. By waiving it, the co-operation of a number of trade associations is obtained. A wage-hour official, for instance, will tell trade association executives something like this:

"We haven't been able to inspect your field yet and probably won't for some months to come. Meanwhile, we know perfectly well that some of your people aren't paying the wages this law requires. Get them into line now; in return, when we do make our inspections, any man who is meeting the law's requirements at the time of the inspection will be okay, even though he may have been disregarding it in the past."

This doesn't mean that the wage-hour division has abandoned the idea of getting restitution of back wages. In October, for instance, it brought about payment of upward of $1,000,000. What is happening is simply that the job of getting universal observance of the law is being put first.

When soy beans hit a dollar a bushel in the Chicago market recently, the Department of Agriculture realized that another crop had—so to speak—come of age. Soy beans have become an important crop in the midwest, rising from an acreage of around 2,000,000 fifteen years ago to 10,000,000 acres today. Production for this year is figured at about 79,000,000 bushels.

Reason for the rise in price—it jumped 25 cents from September to November—is probably the drop in land production due early next year. A good part of the soy bean crop is used in making margarine and cooking oils. Drop in land production hence means a bigger field for soy bean oils.

Agriculture Department experts doubt that the defense boom is putting the price up. Only about 15 per cent of the crop goes to industrial uses. Besides, the war has practically killed the export demand.

Discount those predictions that

STAMP NEWS

INTERNATIONAL airmail service, symbolized by the Australian stamp above, celebrates an important anniversary, the completion of five years of trans-Pacific service. Since establishment of the U. S.-Honolulu-Manila-Hong Kong route in 1935 the entire globe has been circled by regularly scheduled service. North and South Atlantic routes from U. S. were inaugurated in 1939.

The England-Australia route, for which the stamp above was issued, began in December, 1934. U. S.-Australia airmail was inaugurated last July.

Trans-Pacific Clippers, flying the U. S.-Honolulu-Manila-Hong Kong route have flown 3,715,553 route miles, transported 13,480,000 letters and 6481 passengers since 1935. The 442nd North Pacific crossing was completed during the anniversary week.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The United States Capitol is getting its face lifted—and what a mess!

For the first time in 140 years, the House of Representatives is meeting outside its own hall—in the big, bright ways and means committee room in the new House Office building.

The Senate has turned back the calendar nearly 82 years and is holding sessions in the old Senate chamber just off the well of the "little rotunda." Into this Mark Twain once stared and probably thinking of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, called it "the spittoon of America."

The reason for the face-lifting is that the roofs of the Senate and House wings are sagging. David Lynn, Capitol architect, has been warning for years that a heavy snow might bring tons of glass and rubble down on the heads of Congress.

Plans were to do a permanent job of fitting new beams into the roofs during adjournment this summer and fall, but national defense and a popular demand for Congress to stay in session put a stop to that.

The congressmen have hundreds of letters which say: "Even if the Capitol comes down on your heads, stay on the job." A demand that strong couldn't be ignored, but it has contributed to the mess, for so reluctant was Congress to suspend operations that it now is possible even the temporary job cannot be completed by January 3 and the 77th Congress will have to convene in the present makeshift quarters.

Would Be Packed

FOR the members of the House, this would be considerable inconvenience for as large as the committee room is, it would hardly be more than a sardine can, packed with 435 members, employees and relatives and friends who would want to be on hand for the ceremony.

The Senate, on the other hand, probably wouldn't mind so much, for despite the inconvenience, a lot of the gentlemen are getting tired of running back through history to their pre-Civil War quarters.

The old Senate chamber has been dignified by 70 years of occupancy by the Supreme Court (which only vacated in 1935) and by being a hall of mercy in those Civil War years when the Capitol was converted into a hospital (another portion of the Capitol was a bakery for army bread, but not the Senate chamber). Although it is about 40 feet shorter and narrower than their present chamber, it still is a serviceable room and unlike the old hall of representatives, not afflicted with acoustical whispers and echoes.

The Past Unfolds

THE tradition apparently is inspiring, for you have only to hang around the corridors these days to have some senator buttonhole you with stories of the Senate. There they'll tell you, sat Sam Houston, the fiery "Raven" of Texas history and the hero of San Jacinto. There sat Jefferson Davis, the gentleman from Hurler, Miss., who was to become the Confederacy's only president. And in the chair of the president of the Senate, was Vice-President John C. Breckinridge, the Kentuckian, who was to be expelled by the Senate and to become Davis' secretary of war. There also were little Stephen A. Douglas; and New York's political giant, William H. Seward.

There, someone is sure to tell you, stood Matthias Ward, the Texas Democrat appointed to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. Pinckney Henderson. On that spot, he stood and became the last man to take the oath of office in the old chamber.

On that same spot, 82 years later almost to the day, stands Berkeley Bunker, Nevada Democrat, to take the oath of office to fill the Senate chair of the late John P. Altman.

Yes sir, Capitol face-lifting may be a bit inconvenient, but it's stirring up tradition and the senators, at least, love it.

Hundreds Present At English Village To Aid the British

Until all ticket sales have been reported to the chairman, Mrs. Hugh R. Logan, an official estimate can be given of the hundreds of persons attending the Bundles for Britain English Village bazaar at the North Warren Community House Friday evening, but the building was comfortably filled from the hour of its opening at three in the afternoon until midnight.

Given for the purpose of raising funds for purchases of wool for knitting and materials for making hospital garments, the bazaar will yield a substantial sum from its various booths, series of games in the basement, and sale of admissions. A complete report will be given by the local chapter chairman, Miss Gene Alden Walker, as soon as final figures are available. Combining well-timed and arranged a continuous schedule that kept the large audience interested throughout the afternoon and evening. Capped and aproned women served tea from three until six and in the evening Mrs. Harriet Wilkins, program chairman, presented entertainment from the stage.

On this part of the program were Lawrence Ekey and William Hollister in accordion duets; music by the Young Troubadours of North Warren; gymnastic exhibition by the Y. M. C. A. boys' department; Hawaiian and Spanish guitar music by Betty and Jeanne Foster; baton drill by high school majorettes, Bonnie Johnson, Charlotte James, Marcia Baxter, Gertrude Bloss and Doris Anderson; performance of magic, Hudson Grotzinger and Charles Trantzer; ballet and waltz, Katherine Dawn Williams, with violin accompaniment by Aurelio Lucia.

Particularly attractive were the village settings designed and executed by Quinn Smith, revealing a book mart, sweet shop, doll shop, English shop, Bundles for Britain shop, Sewing Guild, and tea shop, arranged about the English signpost, wishing well and flower seller, with Mrs. E. P. Worth and Nan Featherington in costume. Mrs. Frank Moore, 109 Fourth avenue, was awarded the lovely doll house displayed before the booths and attended by Molly Wroth, Toni Hamilton, Connie Trantzer and Sally Smith in English costumes.

The large cabinet radio displayed near the door awarded to L. B. Jones, of the field. Many prizes were given for the series of games, held in the basement and professionally supervised for the large crowd.

The chairman has asked the Times-Mirror to express sincere appreciation for the earnest efforts of all the workers and friends, contributors of articles and prizes, and to the entertainers who made the affair such a decided success.

Voice Teacher Is Planning to Aid Alias Santa Fund

In order to bring additional cheer to less fortunate ones at Christmas time, the Warren Conservatory of Music announces that it will cooperate with the Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus Fund by holding a special holiday concert on Tuesday evening, December 17.

Everyone attending the Christmas concert is asked to bring some gift to place under the Christmas tree, according to Eugene Kuester, head of the voice department and in charge of arranging the program.

He requests that donors mark clearly on the outside of packages the name of article therein, but not the name of the person giving it. Such information will aid those in charge of distribution of the gifts at a later date.

Mr. Kuester has arranged a very attractive program of Christmas music for this concert, chiefly solos from "The Messiah" by ten vocalists, but also a number of small chorus numbers. Details will be announced later.

Social Events

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF GRACE CHURCH

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting Thursday evening in Grace Methodist church, with 70 attending a six o'clock dinner.

Afterwards a short business session was conducted and Mrs. W. L. Miller, returned from the mission from India, was present from Jamestown, N. Y., and had a very interesting and descriptive talk of her work and conditions in that country.

The committee for this meeting was headed by Mrs. Rachel Larimore and composed of Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Jay Church, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Harry Rickard, Mrs. Merle Russell, Mrs. Walter Strong, Mrs. Paul Duckett, Miss Marion Bryan, Miss Grayce Jolley, Miss Helen Schatzle and Miss Anna Mary Huilings.

P. H. C. MEMBERS PLANNING PARTY

Plans are under way for the annual Protected Home Circle Christmas party, to be held in the Marconi social rooms on December 19, with both junior and senior members participating. The committee promises a visit from Santa Claus, with a treat and grab bag.

At 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, junior members gathered at the hall for a pleasant Christmas party arranged by Mrs. Evelyn Reese, junior counselor, and Mrs. Bertha Sweeting, assistant counselor. After a period of games, each member was presented with a gift and candy.

The regular meeting of the senior organization was held during the early evening.

B. P. W. CLUB PLANS YULETIDE PARTY

Members of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club will take time to think of others less fortunate in the plans for their annual Yuletide party, scheduled for 6:30 o'clock Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. activities building.

To this meeting members will bring gifts for the Children's Aid Society, a custom of several years' standing. Besides these, there will be an exchange of gifts between "key" sisters of the club.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a Christmas program in charge of Miss Eunice Alexander.

MAY R. STONE CLASS

Members of the May R. Stone Class of the First Presbyterian church will have a twelve dinner at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Marie Leuthold and her committee, in charge of the dinner, will provide meat, rolls, coffee, cream and sugar.

Following the serving, a business meeting will be held to discuss plans for the White Christmas work.

DECEMBER MEETING OF PLAYERS CLUB

The December studio meeting of the Warren Players Club will be held next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Women's Club auditorium, with a meeting of active members immediately afterward.

For the program, Miss Marion Schwab, a newcomer to the club, will present a three-act comedy, "Yes and No" by Kenneth Horne.

SPINSTER CLASS TO HAVE PROGRAM

The Spinster Class of the First Presbyterian church will meet at eight o'clock Monday evening in the Craft room for a Christmas program. Refreshments after the program will be served by the following newly-elected officers: President, Mrs. F. S. Richards; Vice-president, Mrs. E. V. Lesser; secretary, Mrs. Merle Graham; assistant secretary, Miss Florence Hill; treasurer, Miss Nell Milenius.

PHILATHEA CLASS TO HONOR MOTHERS

On Monday evening the Philathea Class of the First Evangelical church will entertain their mothers at a Christmas party to be held in the Folkman parlors of the church. Everyone is asked to bring a gift for the grab bag. Other entertainment and refreshments will be provided by the girls of the class.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS

The Bible Study Class will hold its regular meeting at 7:45 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. J. P. Bovard, 112 Pennsylvania avenue, west. Last week's meeting was well attended and members heard a helpful message by Rev. Gilbert Howe, who will speak again Monday night.

ELVIDGE CLASS

The Elvidge Class of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Miss Mabel Abbott, 113 Market street, at eight o'clock Monday evening and members are asked to bring needles and thimbles for Red Cross sewing.

BIRTHS

AT MATERNITY

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Work, of Sheffield, are the parents of a daughter weighing six pounds, 14½ ounces, born at 3:42 p. m. yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Suppa, 500 Water street, are the parents of a son weighing nine pounds, two ounces, born at 2:33 a. m. today.

Friendship Club's "Sample Fair" Has Record Attendance

The Friendship Club of the First Presbyterian church reports that at least 500 persons attended its "sample fair" held in the church Friday evening. Proceeds from this function are to be used in the Christmas work carried on by the club.

Very attractively arranged booths provided samples for the visitors, the following local firms participating: Victor Office, with charming Christmas decorations and a rose for each adult; Warren Dairy, with gifts of chocolate milk; Walker Creamery Products company, gave ice cream and buttermilk; Gay's Market, ham salad sandwiches; Warren Baking Company, cake; Sibley-Almy Company, coffee; Kresge Company, Christmas gift display; Blomquist's, furniture display; and samples of furniture polish; Jean Carol Hat Shop, showing hats, mittens and bags; Warren Drug Store, perfume samples; Mrs. Klinefister, with paper products. One of the most interesting booths was that of the Warren Airport, arranged under a parachute and demonstrating - an instrument board and other technical details of flying. The Turner Radio Shop added materially to the pleasures of the guests in providing special music.

In addition to the above, the following samples were given: Loblaws' Geracimos', Pepsi-Cola, Warren Wholesale and Smith-Hornton's Texaco Company, Warren National Bank, Warren Bank and Trust Company, First National Bank, C. Beckley, Personal Finance Company, Danielson-Carter, Pico Company, W. E. Lutz, Commonwealth Laundry, Miller Shop, Emblem Oil Company.

Many prizes were awarded during the evening, gifts of merchandise and individuals named previously in these columns.

Educational movies were provided by O. C. Tritt, showing 4H Club work and associated activities, and by the Greyhound Company, with a travel film with sound, "They Discovered America."

The class, and particularly those members who arranged the efforts of the single person who contributed in any way to its success.

All Young People of Community Invited To Baptist Service

The First Baptist church has extended a cordial invitation to all young people in the community and in North Warren to participate in its candlelight Christmas carol service to be held at five o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

A massed choir of junior singers from local churches will sing, there will be solos and, to conclude, Rev. James A. Davidson, Baptist pastor, will show movies of his travel abroad. The complete musical program follows:

Jamestown Speaker For First Meeting Of Missionary Unit

A large group of interested women of the community gathered in Dunham parlors of the First Methodist church on Friday afternoon to attend the initial meeting of the Interdenominational Mission Study Group. Cooperating were the women of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp presided and Mrs. James A. Davidson was in charge of devotions, giving Scripture passages, offering some well directed comments and closing with prayer. Miss Viola Lindmark, well known contralto soloist from the First Baptist church, sang Brokof's "Christmas Carols," with Mrs. Edwin Jack playing her accompaniments at the piano.

Mrs. T. E. Colley introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. G. Barney Thompson, missionary to India, now home on furlough. The visitor has a very pleasing personality and held the close attention of the large group. She was attractively attired in Hindu costume and told most entertainingly of that country.

She reminded her audience that India is a country one-half the size of the United States, with three times as many people, and that they speak 250 languages. Of these, she can speak two. She said that three-fifths of India is under British control, the remainder ruled by Indian princes. Where British rules, the people enjoy peace and justice. Karachi, where the Thompsons are located, is a port city of 250,000 people, with the Standard Oil of Texas and many other American interests.

Mrs. L. E. Nason, chairman of the mission organization, announced that the January meeting will be in the United Brethren church.

The offering of the afternoon will go to the China Relief Fund, as previously announced.

After the meeting was adjourned, there was a social hour and tea was served from very attractive tables. Presiding were Mrs. Davidson and Miss Anna Snyder, of the Baptist church; Mrs. Colley and Mrs. C. C. Burch, of the hostess church.

Banquet This Evening Outstanding Event of Calvary Baptist Jubilee

A. W. Danielson, from Florence and Elmer Danielson; C. O. Swanson, from Mrs. Swanson, Ellen E. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bliok, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Martin C. Swanson.

Four services will be held tomorrow to conclude the five-day celebration. The Sunday school session at 9:45 o'clock will be in charge of the superintendent, Clarence O. Swanson, and special numbers will include a brief historical sketch, musical numbers and an address by Stanley Rendahl, of Sioux Falls, S. D., son of a former pastor, Axel Rendahl. The young man is now studying for the ministry at Bethel.

Pastor Martin Hamlin will deliver the jubilee sermon at the 11 o'clock service of morning worship. Holy Communion will be administered and there will be special music by the local choir.

An historical session is scheduled for three o'clock in the afternoon, including a song service by the choir, brief messages of greeting, sermon by a former pastor, Rev. Martin A. Larson, of Wilmington, Del., and to conclude, refreshments served by the Young People's Society.

Pastor Rendahl will return to his old pulpit to preach the sermon for the closing service at 7:30 o'clock and again there will be special music.

The church extends to all its friends cordial invitation to attend any of these services and participate in this very joyful jubilee observance.

PLEADS GUILTY

Mayo I. Peterson, of Little Valley, N. Y., pleaded guilty to issuing a worthless check when arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans. Peterson was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff L. E. Linder and waived extradition. The defendant was released following payment of the costs and the amount of the check, the complaining witness petitioning the court to take such action.

MIDWEEK SERVICE

The midweek service at the Salem Evangelical church next Wednesday evening will consist of a supper at 6:30, to which the whole congregation is invited. An old-fashioned family worship will be held about the tables, consisting of Bible reading, familiar songs, hymns and prayers. After this the congregation will hold its annual business session for the election of officers whose terms expire December 31.

PROFESSIONAL DISTRESS

NERVE STRAIN—MENTAL ANGUISH

Doctors and their social duties sometimes have a hard time making connections, and often are the despair of their family and friends.

It may not be generally thought that the modern Doctor takes the case of the patient as much to heart as the old family physician, but those who live close to Doctors will tell you a different story. The Physician who tries to divert his mind, or fulfill social obligations, with a seriously ill patient in his thoughts, is a very absent-minded theatre companion or bridge partner.

The Doctor expecting a momentary summons, is not free from mental strain or wakeful nights. When he finds the case beyond human or scientific help, only the immediate family grieves more than the Doctor. Of course it is up to the Doctor not to show distress, and to keep nerve strain under leash, but modern Physicians take their profession seriously, and want just as sincerely to make and keep you well as the old-fashioned general practitioner.

Russell Studio Has Pleasing Recital By Group of Students

Pupils of the Russell Piano Studios presented a very interesting monthly recital Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Russell, 205 Pennsylvania avenue, east, with a large audience of parents and friends paying tribute to the excellence of the program. In their phrasing, technique and memorizing, the students displayed a steady progress that was most satisfying to all concerned.

After Joyce Gilson had given an interesting, informal talk on "Beethoven," the following were heard in a variety of selections: Joyce Smith, Nancy Jane Black, Joan Langdon, Joyce Beebe, Ruth Kaebnick, Jimmy Hildum, Joyce Gilson, Alice Alexander, Rowell Hoff, Maxine Ann Beebe, Patty Gibson, Harriet Lind and Lois Johnson.

Assisting artist of the evening was Mrs. Anna Wilson, who sang three pleasing selections. Her accompaniments were ably played by Helen Eckardt Olson, violin, and Evelyn Samuelson, piano. All appeared in charming costumes of the colonial era.

During the services, a trio composed of David Shaffer, Preston Atkins and Paul Davidson sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Friends and relatives attending from out of town included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Richardson and son Everett, Mrs. C. N. Mays, Mrs. Sarah Lingo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sayers, Mrs. Oliver Stuck, Mrs. Anna Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada, all of City; Mrs. Harry Richardson, of Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ewings, of Brookston; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cunningham, of Marienville; Mrs. Harrison Dehner, of Leeper; Mrs. Roy Baker, of West Hickory, and Mrs. Sherman Grubbs, of Warren.

First Church of Christ, Scientist
312 Market Street
Sunday service 10:45 a. m. Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. God the Only Cause and Creator is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 8. The Golden Text is: "Every house is builded by some man; but he that build all things is God" (Hebrews 3:4). Among Bible citations are: "The Lesson-Sermon" by the following: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. . . Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created; and thou renewest the face of the earth. The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works" (Psalms 104:24-30, 31). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (p. 502).

Sunday school 9:45 with Mr. Ivan Rydholm in charge and classes for all ages. Morning worship 10:45. This church will observe Universal Bible Sunday and the pastor will preach upon the theme "For the healing of the nations". It is requested that all who come to church bring their Bible with them and leave them for use in the evening. The church-choir will sing a Christmas anthem—"What mean those holy voices," by Carry Adams, under the direction of John Carl Jones. The Salem choir is singing a Christmas anthem each Sunday in December. Evening worship 7:30. In this service an opportunity will be given to tell why the particular Bible which was brought to church in the morning is a treasure to its owner. This should make a very personal and interesting part of the service. The pastor will preach on the subject—"Why do the nations rage. . . I have set my King" it being one of the Messianic Psalms on which Rev. Schieb is preaching during Advent. The youth choir will sing a special anthem under the direction of Miss Ruth Ackert, the director. E. L. C. B. and Pioneers 6:30. The leader for the former is Miss Ruth Spies, and the subject is "Using the Bible when it counts". The Pioneers will be led by Richard Peterson, and the topic is "How Bible Youth met our problem."—Stephen R. Schieb, minister.

Four Repeaters On 1940 Associated Press All-America

Kimbrough, Severin, Harmon And Drahos Are Again Rewarded

COMPETITION IN GERMANY TO BE BANNED BY AAU

Denver, Dec. 7.—(A.P.)—The executive committee of the National AAU reported today it had decided to recommend to the convention that no amateur athlete be permitted to compete in Germany.

The recommendation was understood to have been prompted by the announcement of Roy E. Davis of Chicago, chairman of the boxing committee, that the United States had been invited to send a team to a "world boxing championships" in Berlin in 1942.

The executive committee included no time limit in its recommendation.

A fight over efforts to restore Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, former Stanford basketball star, to amateur standing was before the delegates in the second day of the convention.

Before the convention's close tomorrow the board of governors will decide Luisetti's fate. Rated one of the best college sharpshooters in California's cage history, he was barred from A. A. U. play for taping movie actor—for one film.

The registration committee rejected, 8 to 7, yesterday his plea for reinstatement, but Charles F. Hunter of San Francisco, an A. A. U. vice president, said he would push the fight through the general convention.

One veteran official, in predicting Luisetti's defeat, said "if the A. A. U. reinstated him, it would be an invitation for any amateur stat to make capital of his athletic skill and later court on regaining his amateur standing."

By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Dec. 7.—(A.P.)—Boasting the greatest concentration of football talent in its history, the Middle West dominates the 16th annual All-America team, selected today by The Associated Press on the basis of a nationwide survey of expert opinion.

Led by the powerful Western Conference where Minnesota, Michigan and Northwestern set a rapid pace, the Mid-West places three men on the first team and ten men, all told, on the All-America squad of 33, divided among first, second and third teams.

Trailing the Midlands are the South and East, with seven players each on the full squad; the Southwest and Far West with four each, and the Rocky Mountain sector with one.

Completing another season of spectacular play, four members of the 1939 All-America ensemble are selected again—Tom Harmon, Michigan's sensational halfback; John Kimbrough, smashing fullback of the Texas Aggies; Nick Drahos, Cornell's great tackle; and Paul Severin, North Carolina end.

Seaving with Kimbrough and Harmon in the backfield are Frank Albert, Stanford's clever field general, and George Franck, speedy halfback of Minnesota's undefeated juggernaut.

Filling out the line positions are Erwin (Buddy) Elrod of Mississippi State as Severin's running mate at end; Bob Reinhard of California, serving with Drahos at tackle; Bob Suffridge of Tennessee and Warren Alfson of Nebraska at the guard posts, and Chet Gladchuk, huge Boston College star, at center.

Nine Are Seniors

Of these, all except Albert and Reinhard are seniors, furnishing a sharp contrast to the situation a year ago when six juniors won places on the All-America. Albert and Reinhard are juniors.

Selection of Elrod and Gladchuk give Mississippi State and Boston College All-America representation for the first time since The Associated Press began its selections in 1925. Stanford returns to the All-America picture for the first time since 1935 when Bobby Grayson was chosen; Nebraska and Minnesota for the first time since 1926 when Sam Francis and Ed Wiseloh made the grade, and California for the first time since Sam Chapman was selected in 1937.

As chosen, the All-America team has all the necessary qualifications of speed, skill, brains, and durability. The line, anchored by the 242-pound Gladchuk, averages 202 pounds. Kimbrough's 222 pounds brings the backfield average up to 190.

Whatever arguments may develop elsewhere, there could be no dispute over the right of both Harmon and Kimbrough to rank with football's all-time greats. Both were marked men from the start; ingenious defenses were designed to stop their marauding forays, but with small success.

When Harmon piled up 22 points in Michigan's final game with Ohio State, he completed an intercollegiate career that has been equaled by few players in the long history of the game.

Barrett Top Pitcher

Seattle, Dec. 7.—Kewpie Dick Barrett of the Seattle pitching staff not only led the Pacific Coast League with his won-and-lost record, but was first in strikeouts and fourth in earned run average. He won 24 and lost five in the regular season.

TEXAS-KOCH FIVE BLANKS BRADFORD

The Texas Lunch-Koch's Beer League took a big jump toward the league leadership last night when they topped the Bodine Hardware of Bradford in an Inter-City match at the Arcade.

Only in the final game did the Bradford bowlers come within shouting distance, but were headed by 30 pins.

Harry Wooster paced the Texas combine with 223 and 539. Horne's 563 was tops for the visitors.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Dec. 7.—(A.P.)—Penn's Francis Reagan has been offered $5,000 by the Athletics; $7,500 by the Red Sox and has a promise from the Yankees that he'll better any offer he gets. Tip: He is a Yankee roofer.

Fordham is guaranteed $45,000 or 42 1/2 percent of the gate by the Cotton Bowl. Horton Smith thinks British golf may never recover from the present war and that such shrines as St. Andrews, Prestwick, Sandwich and Deal may go by the boards. Some say the Giants sent Tony Cuccinello to Jersey City to appease Mayor Hague (who demanded Gabby Hartnett) but don't believe all you hear.

War Department.

Young Bob Sweeney, the wealthy playboy golfer, now flying with the Eagle squadron of the Royal Air Force, has cabled friends here to rush his golf clubs.

Ragtime News Review.

All the baseball addicts hate to see Paul Waner get the gate, for it was not so long ago that he sat in the upper row. He'd step up there and bust that ball and make the fielders climb the wall. Boy, the fielders had it and that is why this Waner chap was quite a guy.

The Giants got partly off the spot by signing Master Melvin Ott, but in itself that's not enough, for New York fans are very tough. Godoy again will tackle Joe. But why, is what we want to know. And if you were to ask us Bud, the judge's "fireworks" proved a dud.

Broadway Gossip.

The New York Post has it that (a) the Brooklyn football Dodgers are offering a record sum for Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears and (b) that Max Baer soon will be available for fight offers because he is to be replaced in the lead of "Hya, Gentlemen."

People You Know.

Curt Davis of the Dodgers bagged a 900-pound elk while hunting in Utah. While her hubby learns the G-man business, Mrs. Davey O'Brien has taken up knitting for the Red Cross. Bill Kilmer, new Milwaukee manager, says he's going to show the boys how to clean house. His many friends are going to lose a big birthday party Dec. 12 for Abe J. Greene who is Mr. Boxing in New Jersey. The sports world lost a regular when Capt. Phil Scott died in that Chicago plane crash. He piloted the 1927 Minnesota hockey team. Fire destroyed Joe Kinkwood's set of trick golf clubs and delayed his winter exhibition tour.

Today's Guest Star.

Jeff Mosher St. Petersburg Independent. "Minnesota furnished all the football salad and it hasn't got a bowl to put it in."

Mebbe.

One report has it the Cubs wanted Jimmie Wilson (chiefly to teach some of the lads how to steal bases.

One of the better stories arising from the deer season has to do with "Jiggs" and "Maggie," the famous pet deer at the Red Bridge CCC camp. We reported before that the enrollees, fearing that some near-sighted hunter might mistake the pets for their wild mates, had knitted them red sweaters and hung bright ribbons around their necks. The first day of the season a group of Ohio hunters packed their car near the camp and while getting their equipment ready for the trek into the woods, "Maggie" trotted from the camp to the road, nuzzled one of the hunters and pawed at him insistently for her expected food. "My gawd!" gasped the astounded visitor. "I heard tell deer were plentiful in Pennsylvania but I'll be darned if I ever heard of them running out to shake hands with you."

"Maggie," by the way, is missing. There isn't much doubt of her fate—she has probably been sent to happier hunting grounds by some nurod who also took her sweater home to his wife. The vets at the CCC camp are optimistic, however, and hope that when the noise and tumult dies, the deer will come trotting back to the only home she has ever known. "Maggie," you know, is one of the few deer born by the Caesarian method. Her mother was struck by one of the camp trucks, and when the drivers started to dress the victim "Maggie" arrived. She was taken to the camp and kept alive by the tender ministrings of the enrollees raised on a bottle and allowed to do about as she pleased. "Jiggs" showed up later. He looked the situation over, fell in love with "Maggie" and the vets decided the camp was a pretty fair place to stake his claim. Now it would appear that "Jiggs" is a widower, but he is fortunate to have escaped being caught in the gunfire himself.

With the Associated Press' long-anticipated All-America released to football fans today it is interesting to note the similarities, and dissimilarities of Collier's annual selection. Collier's team, for instance, has Dave Rankin of Purdue and Gene Goodrealt of Boston at ends; the former was placed on the AP second team and the latter was honorable mention. Ben Reinhard, of the University of California was picked as a tackle by both boards, the AP putting Nick Drahos of Cornell, at the other while Collier's selected Alfred Bauman, of Northwestern. Bauman made the third AP eleven. Bob Suffridge, of Tennessee got a guard job on both All-Americas, but Agostino Lo of Georgetown who was usually mentioned by AP, got Collier's non for the opposite post. Warren Alfson, of Nebraska, was the AP cheer at center. Collier's has Rudy Mucha, of Washington, relegated to the AP second string in favor of Chet Gladchuk, of Boston College. But in the backfield Collier's and the AP go along with the majority of All-America boards. They couldn't find any better than Frank Albert of Stanford for quarterback, Tom Harmon of Michigan and George Franck of Minnesota for halves and Javin John Kimbrough, of the Texas Aggies, as fullback.

YEARS AGO IN SPORT

December 7, 1920. Roy Pearce, who enjoyed considerable success as manager of the Butter-Knuts, writes from Roanoke, Va. that Sam Berardie, of Warren made a wonderful showing against Roy Abbott of Norfolk, in a wrestling bout Thanksgiving Day. Abbott is one of the best middleweights in the South but Berardie stood him off in a good shape, taking one fall out of three.

December 7, 1930. The Merchants went to Union City last night and hung up their first win of the season over the Ritz Five 25-19. Louie Archibald and Culbertson counted doubly from the field to lead the scoring, and Healy and Young each netted one two-pointer.

tal telepathist and exponent of memory feats are unparalleled. They are so great, in fact, that he has been the subject of articles in every newspaper and periodical in the country, including the greater New York publications.

His demonstrations of his various powers have been called "amazing," "astounding," "eye arresting," to mention only a few. And some of the greatest skeptics and critics have broken down, after watching him, that he was too much for them to explain.

Some of the press notices he has received include the following: "Portland Oregonian": "A thousand Portlanders as cold and sophisticated an audience as you could assemble acclaimed and applauded Polgar."

New York Journal: "Polgar's appearance on the Philip Morris program brought to radio the most amazing personality of the year."

Pat. McGrady, of the Associated Press: "As a mental telepathist and hypnotist, I have never seen his equal."

Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal: "Polgar confused the skeptical newspapermen with his telepathic exploits which bordered on the uncanny."

William Engle, Science Editor,
New York World-Telegram: "Dr.
Polgar floored the professors of psychology at New York University in their tests. It was, they agreed, an undeniable demonstration of thought-transference."

Edwin C. Hill, noted commentator: "Without effort he understands the thoughts of others and calmly exposes their minds."

Damaging Air Raids By R.A.F.

(From Page One)

Long-range British bombing planes attacked German airdromes in Nazi-occupied Belgium and northern France during the night, an authoritative source reported.

R.A.F. bombers also were reported to have made a new attack on Italian forces at the Albanian port of Valona and to have scored a direct hit on a munitions dumps.

Great clouds of black smoke bill-owed up from the port after the assault, the Air Ministry declared.

Bombs also were said to have exploded on an Italian motor truck concentration and on military buildings. All the British raiders were said to have returned.

A few bombs also were dropped in the southern part of England and in south Wales, a government communicé said, but it added that for the most part German air activity over the island was "not on a heavy scale." No bombs were reported at all in London.

(Cable communications of Western Union and Commercial cables companies between New York and London were interrupted for several hours last night. Western Union reported when its lines were restored after an interruption of six hours and 15 minutes that the break was caused by "trouble in the vicinity of Bristol, England.")

Among the buildings reported hit were a church, a motion picture theatre and a furniture warehouse.
The hospital reported bombed suffered many broken windows, but there were no casualties because the patients had been removed to the basement. Thirteen persons were trapped in a wrecked building and a rescue party struggled to save them.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The center of the big British port of Bristol was left in flames by a night bombing attack which damaged the harbor district of the city, DNB, German news agency, reported today.

The agency said fires also were started in London and that the raid extended throughout southern England.

Church of Tomorrow Group to Take Part In Community Rally

Members of "The Church of Tomorrow" are reminded of the arrangement to meet in the First Presbyterian church at 4:20 Sunday afternoon, to proceed in a body to the young people's rally which is called for 4:30 at the Baptist church. A very interesting program has been arranged for this combined meeting, featuring an illustrated talk by Dr. J. A. Davidson on a recent trip to the Near East. The junior choir representing the Church of Tomorrow will sing, and one of the members will speak briefly about the aims of this young people's church as it is now organized.

The regular Sunday evening service of "The Church of Tomorrow" will therefore be omitted this week.

IN THE ORPHANS' COURT OF WARREN COUNTY, PENN- SYLVANIA.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF ALBERT F. SAM-UELSON, DECEASED.

No. 18 December Term, 1940.
TO THE HEIRS, CREDITORS AND OTHER PERSONS IN-TERESTED IN SAID ESTATE:

NOTICE is hereby given that the Warren National Bank, Executor under the last Will of Albert F. Samuelson, deceased, having presented its Petition to said Court for authority to sell the real estate of the said decedent for the payment of debts, and the said Court having ordered and decreed the sale of such real estate for the payment of said debts, the undersigned will sell, in the lobby of the Court House, of Warren, Pennsylvania, on Monday, December 10, 1940, at two o'clock P. M., the real estate owned by said decedent at the time of his decease, consisting of three several parcels of land, more particularly described as follows:

Parcel No. 1.—All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the township of Farmington, County of Warren, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: COMMENCING at a post, the southwest corner of Tract No. 320, of which this is a part; thence by the West line of said Tract, north sixty-four (64) perches to a post, thence by the south line of land formerly of Europe Ray east one hundred six (106) perches to a post in the west line of land formerly of Alonzo Peck; thence by the same south sixty-four (64) perches to a post in the line of the Tract; thence by the same west one hundred six (106) perches to the place of beginning, containing forty (40) acres of land, be the same more or less; being the same premises conveyed to A. F. Samuelson by deed dated October 28, 1893, and recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in and for Warren County, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book 74, at page 545.

Parcel No. 2.—All that certain piece or parcel of land, lying and being situate in the township of Sugar Grove, County of Warren, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING at the southeast corner of the south line of land, and running west by the south line of land, and two-tenths (2/10) rods to the center of a public road running through the whole premises; thence east by the center of said road eighteen and two-tenths (18 2/10) rods to the east line of the whole lot; thence north along said last mentioned line six and two-tenths (6 2/10) rods to the place of beginning, containing five (5) acres and fifty-five (55) square rods of land, be the same more or less, and being a part of a larger lot of land known as the William Clemmons place, and conveyed to John McKinney by Sheriff's deed, bearing date December 3, A. D. 1861, and recorded in Minute Book 3, at page 289, Deed Book 6, 1861, and from the heirs at law of John McKinney, deceased, to Samuel A. Samuelson by deed dated the 24th day of March, A. D. 1887.

Parcel No. 3.—All that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the Township of Brokenstraw, County of Warren, and State of Pennsylvania, and being a part of Tract No. 307, bounded on the north by south line of Township, on the west by land formerly owned by George Bates, on the south by land now owned by R. Cooper and formerly owned by S. R. & S. E. Bates, and on the east by a line parallel with said west line, being the west line of fifty acres of land conveyed by Lars Samuelson to D. A. Samuelson by Assignment of Deed from Everett and Mosher to Lars Samuelson, bearing date February 25, 1864, containing fifty (50) acres of land, be the same more or less.

The last two parcels of land being the same land conveyed to Albert F. Samuelson, by deed dated August 6, 1903, and recorded in the Recorder's Office in and for Warren County, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book 100, at page 482.

The terms of the sale are ten per cent (10%) of the bid to be paid when the property is knocked down, and the balance of the purchase price to be paid upon confirmation of the sale by the Court, and delivery of the deed.

Who Killed Aunt Maggie?

By MEDORA FIELD

YESTERDAY, Lieutenant Gregory of the Atlantic police is examining everybody in Sally and Bill's old country house in an effort to trace the person who murdered Aunt Maggie the night before. He has learned three interesting things: a young negro was on the place late the day before; a piece of wire cut from the telephone line has turned up in one of the guest's wastebasket, and a Mr. Jamieson phones that a man in a convertible coupe asked the way to the house the day before.

Chapter 27

Strained

EVIDENTLY Andrew had talked a good deal, or maybe he had just got around, for Mr. Jamieson knew of the fake telephone call and the fact that the rest of us did not arrive until late afternoon. He described the man as being dark-haired and dark-eyed and said that he believed he would recognize him. Unfortunately he did not take the license number. Mr. Jamieson seemed all too willing to continue the conversation, hoping, no doubt, to learn further details of the morning's events, but I thanked him and hung up.

The description fitted Kirk, even to the convertible coupe. Though, of course, there are plenty of dark-haired and dark-eyed men and convertible coupes. I called Dr. Grace and, after offering his services in any way that they might be needed, he gave me the telephone number of his young assistant, Dr. Martin Bates. But this gentleman was not at home and his wife had no idea when he would return. He was on an obstetrical case out in the country, she said, and there was no near-by telephone, but she promised to have him call as soon as she heard from him.

Next I called my own home in town. I wanted to ask Bill's mother, who had come over to spend the week end with little Sally and the nurse, whether she had talked to anyone who might have called me on the telephone Saturday morning. But Julia, the nurse, had taken all calls, she told me, and Julia was accordingly put on the wire.

"Yes'm," Julia remembered. "They was a man called. He wanted to know where you was and I told him you was going to the Baltimore to get your hair fixed and he said he would call you there. No'm, I didn't recognize his voice. Andrew most generally answers the telephone and he might know."

But since Andrew had not been at home to take the call, this naturally did not get us very far. "Where there any other calls?"

"A lady wanted to know where you was, too, and I told her, but she didn't give no name."

"Do you think you would recognize the voices if you heard them again?"

"I couldn't say for sure, Miss Sally. I might remember the lady. She talk in a sort o' dress-up way."

Eve, of course. Talking to a servant after what she imagined to be the manner of a great lady. But who could the other call have come from?

Bill's mother had already notified the servants at Aunt Maggie's house of what had happened the night before. I waited on the line while Minnie, her maid, went to make sure about the pearls.

"Yes'm, they in her little safe in the wall," she reported. "Miss Maggie always said it was old luck when she forgot 'em. Oh, Miss Sally, seems like I can't stand it with Miss Maggie gone."

Then Andrew was at my shoulder, saying, "Miss Sally, the dead wagon, I mean the ambulance, done come for Miss Maggie."

I forgot all about the piece of wire and left it hanging on the telephone.

Eve At Her Worst

WHATSOEVER else had happened or might happen, the lunch-sound sounded the same. I sat down at the table, wondering whether I had been taken in too easily by Thomas and his story of Kirk's illness. How did I know Kirk was as sick as Thomas made out? Even now it might be making good his escape.

If I had only been able to reach Dr. Bates by telephone. If I had only had an opportunity to speak to Bill, who now sat the length of the table away from me, separated by the flickering flames of the candles which had been lit because of the all-pervading gloom of the weather.

As Thomas blundered around the table, I strained my ears for the sound of the telephone bell, knowing all the time it was far too soon to be expecting a call from Dr. Bates. Then I remembered the telephone wire. What on earth had I done with it? Oh, yes, the telephone closet.

"Lindy," I said, as she passed hot Sally Luna muffins which were only a shade too brown on top, "ask Bessie to step in here when she can."

Bessie came, and as I whispered instructions about the telephone wire her skittish glances at Eve made it all too plain that here was her choice of number one candidate for the electric chair. I wondered if she could be right.

If Eve, now being so conscientiously charming to Mr. Dodson, really possessed guilty knowledge, as she had hinted. And if that knowledge involved someone else now seated at this table.

With these thoughts in mind, I was more than a little startled when Mr. Dodson, seated on my left, asked in a low tone if all our guests were assembled in the dining room.

"Yes," I told him, "that's as you know," Eve Bonedick on your left. On her other side is Bob Dunbar and just below Bob is Claire Harper, seated on the right of my husband, who is at the end. On Bill's left is Kirk Pierce and between Kirk and Mr. Marshall is Alice Dunbar, Bob's sister."

"Thank you," he murmured, "that will help to give me a little preliminary line-up on the situation."

"Line-up, indeed," caroled Eve, who apparently had overheard Mr. Dodson's remark. "He is the most amazing man, Sally. Do you know, he just now told me the color of my hair and eyes?"

Mr. Dodson chuckled. "That is fairly simple," he declared. "I don't always hit, of course. But radio tests, for instance, have shown that the voice has a great deal to do with personality and coloring. In one of these tests listeners were asked to describe speakers they had never seen, and a majority of the descriptions were fairly accurate. As I recall, listeners have also identified photographs by voices, with a fair average on the credit side."

By way of making conversation when Eve turned again to Bob, I asked Mr. Dodson, "In a case such as this, would ordinary table talk be—what shall I say—revealing?"

I had not really sought information and the gravity of his reply rather gave me pause. "Yes," he said, "sometimes."

"But how?" I asked, my entire attention now engaged, and I lowered my voice quite unnecessarily, for Eve was being vivacious for the benefit of the table at large. "Is it a note in the voice? Freight, desperation, defiance—what is it?"

"Ah, but that I cannot tell you. It may be something that is said. Some statement, you know. It may be a laugh. It may be more than a nuance—an overtone, perhaps. There may be nothing at all. One can only listen and hope. One can only encourage conversation."

Strained Situation

SO I sat and tried to listen with an attuned differently from my usual bent. Tried to listen as I imagined Mr. Dodson was listening. Tried to see myself and my guests as he was seeing us, without the aid of eyesight and from sound alone.

Eve, it appeared, was being charming to everyone. I thought it a pity Mr. Dodson could not see and hear quite black crepe and pearls, since she was so obviously putting herself out for his benefit. She herself had chosen to sit next to him, but perhaps that was only because Bob was on her other side.

Quite unnecessarily, she was arranging Mr. Dodson's food for him, making sandwiches and playing his plate for when it pleased her to take thought of others she must have her way. Under cover of conversation, considerably general, she was using Claire and Bob as targets, leaving them now and then to return to Mr. Dodson, as though his welfare and interest were not chief concerns.

He was plainly flattered, as any man is when a woman puts herself to be attentive to him, but it was also plain from the half-smile that hovered around his mouth that he was in no way taken in.

All the more I looked a little grim, but I cannot say how there was reason enough for my asides from the manner Bob and his black eye resulting from that hit-and-run encounter in the dark hall. The two thoughts coming out from the master of the house, Bob and Alice, were that Kirk and Bob did not know Kirk was actually recovering from his illness too easy in his escape. How much more, I thought, I could not guess, nor did I want to.

Everyone seemed to be enjoying a desperate effort to maintain an everybody's silence. Someone had struck a match to light a safe, and Kirk, bent over, was along the makeshift table, saying that he had just seen all your flowers and that cooking is in the State of

M. That is ten days after mobilization day.

For about the first month, the order indicated, training will be carried out from out of the developing units and demonstration teams "for the intensive training of selective service personnel." Draftees who will fill out the division to war strength—approximately 20,000 men—are expected to arrive beginning February 17. That is when the real work starts.

Today's orders applied only to the 28th division, but it was understood that other Pennsylvania National Guard units will be inducted into Uncle Sam's expanded army about the same time. They will go to various camps, from Virginia to Georgia.

Training will be progressive, starting with the individual, "to harden the individual physically, and to train him individually and as a member of a team for field service and for combat in small units." The ultimate aim is to develop "the organization, training, equipment and transportation of all units so that they may take the field on short notice and operate efficiently under combat conditions."

General Martin placed foremost among the 15 phases of individual training, schooling in "citizenship duties, what America stands for, and unit esprit de corps."

Once each soldier has been "physically hardened, qualified to march, to use his weapons and to care for himself and his means of transportation in the field"—whether it's shank's mare or a motorcycle—the troops will buckle down to the job of soldiering. Companies, battalions, regiments, brigades and the entire division click as a team.

Martin made provision for troop schools, for field officers, company officers, enlisted men, communications personnel, intelligence sections, motor mechanics and chauffeurs, and cooks, bakers and mess sergeants.

He instructed that training should be aimed to insure that by May 31, all units will be capable "of engaging in operations requiring daily marches for an indefinite period, of lengths not less than 'average' for their arm or service."

With an eye on those who try to get out of drill, he directed that "only personnel sick or essential to maintain messes and protect public property will be excused from participating in unit training."

Martin specified that leaves of absence and furloughs "will be granted in urgent cases only."

AWARDS TO BE PRESENTED TO SCOUT LEADERS

One of the outstanding features of the annual meeting of the Warren County Boy Scout Council being held next Thursday at the North Warren Community House will be the awards to Scout leaders. Included in them will be the presentation of veteran certificates to thirteen men who complete their fifth, tenth and twentieth years in Scouting this year. Recognition will be given also to those having five years or more of service. Veteran recognition and awards will be made by Carl Rogers, Scout Commissioner.

Two Scoutmaster's keys will be awarded by H. L. Blair, chairman of the training committee. Attainment of the key is the coveted goal of every Scoutmaster for it places him in the Scouters' Hall of Fame. In order to be eligible for the award it is necessary to complete five courses of training, serve as a teacher in a sixth one, spend a total of at least two weeks in camp with a troop of Scouts, and complete five years of satisfactory service. Thus far ten Scoutmasters have been so honored.

Reservations for the meeting which is a dinner meeting must be made at Scout headquarters no later than Tuesday.

NOVEL YOKES ON TAILORED DRESS

By ANNE ADAMS

A well-dressed woman distinguishes between what is smart and what is merely new. This striking Anne Adams frock combines smart style and novelty detail to make an extremely wearable dress. It's Pattern 4627 and simple as can be to make with the accompanying Instructor Sheet. The fashion spotlight plays upon the interesting shoulder yoke treatment. Inside pockets, cut in one piece with the yokes, are optional but easy to do and most decorative, especially when button-trimmed. You might even accent their style by using vivid contrast. The neckline is young and round, the bodice buttons jauntily down the front, and the two-section skirt is smooth and slim. Bracelet-length sleeves and short sleeves are both included.

Pattern 4627 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 2 3/8 yards 54 inch fabric.

HOW TO FILL OUT A DEPOSIT SLIP

1. Print your name at the top of the slip to safeguard your banking signature.
2. Write figures clearly.
3. List each check separately and opposite each amount write the transit number of the bank (which is found after the name of the bank on the check). This number identifies the bank on which the check is drawn and is useful in case of loss.
4. Be certain the totals are correct.
5. If you make a mistake, destroy the slip.

It is advisable for depositors to make out their own deposit slips, first, for the protection of both the depositor and the bank in case of error, and second, to be fair to the other depositors waiting in line at the teller's window.
